What is print advertising?

Print advertising is a form of advertising, which is made on a special printed products and is aimed, first of all, on visual perception. Printing or polygraph advertising the most widespread form of advertising all over the world.